

VA Loans in Las Vegas: 2026 Buyer's Guide

If you're a Veteran, active-duty service member, or another eligible borrower planning to buy in Las Vegas, a VA loan may give you powerful homebuying advantages.

Here's what you should know before you start.

1. Why Buyers Use VA Loans

Depending on eligibility and lender approval, a VA-backed loan may offer:

- ✓ 0% down payment
- ✓ No monthly PMI required by the VA
- ✓ Competitive financing options
- ✓ Limits on certain borrower closing costs
- ✓ Negotiable seller-paid costs
- ✓ No VA prepayment penalty

Important: 0% down does not always mean $0 out of pocket. Buyers may still have closing costs, inspections, prepaid expenses, and other transaction costs.

2. Confirm Your VA Eligibility

Your first step is confirming your eligibility and obtaining a Certificate of Eligibility (COE). A COE confirms VA eligibility, but it does not automatically mean your mortgage is approved.

Your lender will still review your:

- ✓ Income
- ✓ Credit history
- ✓ Debts
- ✓ Assets
- ✓ VA entitlement
- ✓ Property eligibility

3. How Much Can You Buy?

If you have full VA entitlement, the VA does not impose a traditional loan limit. However, your lender still determines how much you qualify for based on your finances and the home's appraised value. If you already have another VA loan or remaining entitlement, additional rules may apply.

4. VA Funding Fee

Many VA borrowers pay a one-time VA funding fee.
For a VA purchase loan with less than 5% down:

First use: 2.15%

Subsequent use: 3.30%

Some eligible borrowers are exempt from the funding fee.
Your lender can confirm your exact fee and exemption status.

5. What Can You Buy?

VA financing may be available for qualifying:

- ✓ Single-family homes
- ✓ Certain VA-approved condos
- ✓ Eligible multi-unit properties
- ✓ Certain manufactured homes
- ✓ New construction

The property generally needs to be your primary residence.

6. The VA Appraisal

A VA appraisal helps determine:

- ✓ Whether the home's value supports the purchase
- ✓ Whether the property meets applicable VA requirements

But remember:

A VA appraisal is not a home inspection.

Consider having an independent home inspection to better understand the property's condition.

7. Budget Beyond the Down Payment

Even with 0% down, prepare for possible expenses such as:

- ☐ Earnest money
- ☐ Home inspection
- ☐ VA appraisal
- ☐ Closing costs
- ☐ Prepaid taxes and insurance
- ☐ HOA-related costs
- ☐ Moving expenses
- ☐ Emergency savings

Ask your lender for an estimated cash-to-close amount before making an offer.

8. Your VA Buying Game Plan

- Step 1: Confirm your VA eligibility
- Step 2: Speak with a VA-experienced lender
- Step 3: Determine a comfortable monthly budget
- Step 4: Get pre-approved
- Step 5: Start your Las Vegas home search
- Step 6: Make an offer
- Step 7: Complete inspections and appraisal
- Step 8: Finalize financing and close
- Step 9: Get the keys 🗝️
